

Bennett Jones

United States of America

Bennett Jones (US) LLP has a long history of serving Canadian companies doing business in the United States and U.S. companies with business operations or interests in Canada. Over the years we have expanded our presence in key U.S. markets in order to provide our U.S. clients with quick and seamless access to our legal services north of the border.

Our U.S. colleagues include the former Commissioner of Canada's Competition Bureau who practices Canadian law with a focus on competition and antitrust; and one of Canada's most pre-eminent lawyers in corporate commercial law, financial services and insurance who assists our clients in the United States and around the world with their legal needs in Canada.
